Hello.

I think schools should stop giving homework to students.

- 1 First, students study for a long time at school. I think that they should rest at home and not do any homework.
- 2 Next, doing homework decreases students' free time. They should use their free time for their hobbies and interests. I think that having a good rest at home and doing your hobbies are equally important for a happy life.

Thank you.

I don't think schools should stop giving homework to students.

- 1 Doing homework is a good way for students to review lessons. In this way, they can be prepared for their exams.
- 2 Also, by doing homework, students will improve their time management skills. This can help them plan their schedules better. I think that preparation and good time management skills are equally important in students' lives.
