Hello.

I think high school students should work part-time.

① First, part-time jobs give students an opportunity to talk with colleagues and customers. In this way, they can learn how to communicate better with different kinds of people.

② Also, employers often look for work experience when they hire new employees. I want to be a chef and working part-time in a restaurant would help me become one someday.

To conclude, I think part-time jobs provide students with experiences that will be helpful for their careers.

Thank you.

Hello.

I don't think high school students should work part-time.

① First of all, high school students are busy studying for their university entrance exams. So, they don't have enough time to work part-time.

② Second, there are many school projects and school activities high school students have to do. They have to spend time on them instead of having a part-time job.

To conclude, I think part-time jobs will distract students from working hard at school.

Thank you.
